PRESSURE BALANCE VALVE

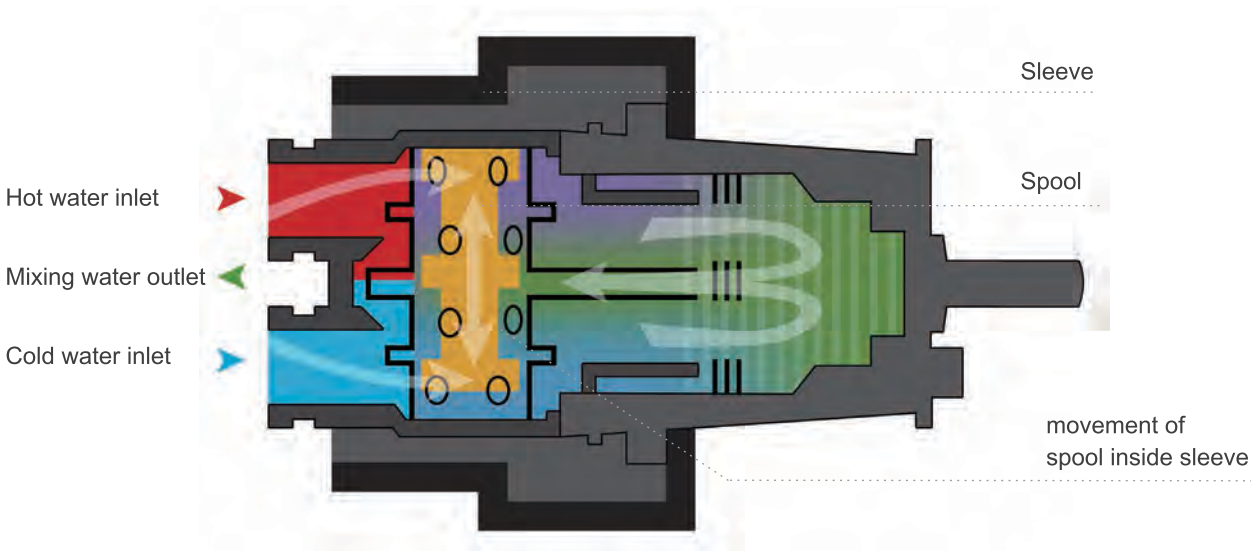

LEGIONELLA BACTERIA 131°F

Legionella bacteria (responsible for Legionnaire's Disease, a type of pneumonia) apparently love water heaters, and can proliferate at temperatures up to 120°F - exactly where many energy-conscious folks recommend setting the thermostat. For these and other bacteria, the game's over around 140°F. Since temperatures within the tank are stratified, there's a good chance that if Legionella were introduced, they would thrive in a tank set at 120°F; at 140°F, this is unlikely.

HIMARK PRESSURE BALANCE VALVES

Monitors water pressure to balance temperature react to the pressure of hot or cold water and adjust the outflow of hot/cold water source, to ensure the water doesn't suddenly get colder or hotter when it comes out of the shower nozzle.

Function

HIMARK wall-mount pressure balance shower system has 1 to 3 functions to choose, which fits all your requirements and brings you a different luxury and unique shower experience.

WHY HIMARK ?

NON DRIP SYSTEM

The water accumulated in the showerhead is retained due to the physical property of the water called surface tension which retains an amount of water in the showerhead itself.

PRICE

Without a large price increase the customer can have a different and unique shower column, with all the positives of our HIMARK thermostats and the HIMARK draining system.

INTERNATIONAL PATENT

Only HIMARK has been able to design a shower column with an exclusive worldwide new system that simply and comfortably empties the water accumulated in the shower.
